TEN CENTS

A CLOSE-UP VIEW of the stern of the nuclear carrier Enterprise shows some of the damage from fire and explosion which swept the world's largest warship on Tuesday in the Pacific. The ship returned to Pearl Harbor for repairs and treatment of the 85 to 100 injured. The casualty lists included 24 known dead and 17 missing. (UPI telephoto)

Nuclear Carrier Badly Damaged

24 Die As Blasts Sweep 'Big E'

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)— Machinist's-mate Gérard Trahan started with disbelief into a 20-foot deep hole in the fire and explosion-torn flight deck of the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise. "Thank God," he said. "They may be out, but that company last night."

Soot and grime covering his clothes from hours of firefighting, the 23-year-old sailor from Central Falls, R.I., was among dozens of crewmen who narrowly escaped death or serious injury Tuesday when explosions and fire swept the Big E, the world's largest aircraft carrier.

The Navy said today 24 men were killed, 17 were missing and 85 injured. Identities were withheld while families were being notified.

The 90,000-ton Enterprise returned to Pearl Harbor showing the scars of the tragedy which one shipyard worker said put it in the worst condition he had seen in any ship since World War II.

The Inferno began at the onset of a practice bombing mission at sea 75 miles southwest of here. Fifteen planes were destroyed. The ship and her crew of 5,400 men were preparing for their fourth tour of duty off Vietnam. Training flights were in progress with 14 planes already launched when the explosion came. Two were 20 yards to the rear of the rear end of the flight deck shortly after 8 a.m. The planes were loaded with rockets, bombs and 20-millimeter

Escapes

Gregory McGreer, 21, an aviation photographe, was serving aboard the Enterprise, calling his parents in Twin Falls early Wednesday and reported he escaped injury after the fire that rushed through the huge carrier.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McGreer of Twin Falls and has been in the Navy two and a half years. He has served on the Ranger, another aircraft carrier, in Vietnam and recently was transferred to the Enterprise.

His parents said he talked for two minutes from Honolulu, Hawaii.

"He is okay, not hurt," his father said.

ammunition to be used in a mock attack on the small island of Kahoolawe, a frequent bombing target used by Navy carriers before assignment to Vietnam.

The blasts and blaze ripped three large holes from the flight deck to compartments three levels below and touched off a rescue mission involving dozens of emergency helicopters and more than 1,000 persons from Honolulu.

"Men jumped or were blown overboard by the explosions," said a Navy spokesman. Some crewmen were trapped in compartments just below the flight deck.

He said the ship's eight nuclear reactors deep in the hull "were not involved."

While the fire fighters battled the flames, military helicopters from Hawaii ferried doctors, nurses and blood to the carrier, including the military medical crewmen to Tripler Army Hospital, near Honolulu.

At Tripler, more than 1,000 persons responded to a public appeal for blood donations. In downtown Honolulu several hundred other volunteers showed up at Queens Medical Center.

Williams Urges Competition On Fire Policy Bids

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho State Auditor Joe R. Williams Tuesday suggested the state call for competitive bids for fire insurance for timber protective associations.

Williams noted at a meeting of the state Land Board that timber protective associations handle their own insurance. The state owns 82 per cent of the land in the Clearwater-Potlatch Association and about one-third of the land in the Priest Lake Association.

The budgets for the protective associations were approved with the understanding that the state would look into the possibility of calling for competitive bids.

In other business, the land board voted to swap 50 acres of state land to the city for a golf course in return for 20 acres of land for the new governor's mansion. The swap is subject to the approval of the secretary of the interior.

Air West May Fold If CAB Nod Delayed

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Unless the Civil Aeronautics Board acts on Howard Hughes' purchase of Air West as "fast as possible" the airline may be doomed, a Hughes spokesman revealed here Wednesday.

Frank Fox, director of aviation for the Hughes Tool Co., and a CAB official that quickly action needed to insure that the service survived.

If the sale is delayed by the CAB, Fox said the service of Air West could be improved in 30 to 60 days.

"The poor service has concerned us very much. The trouble has been plagued and there will be improvement," he said. The CAB should receive this week a copy of the agreement of Howard Hughes to purchase Air West, but there is still no indication how long it will take to approve the deal.

Some 100 flight attendants expect many months before the board reaches a final decision and the airline might not survive unless the board acts quickly.

Air West was formed several months ago in the merger of Bonanza, Pacific and West Coast Airlines. Hughes made an offer to purchase Air West late last year, and in December the stockholders approved the sale.

Directors held out for a time, but then decided to sell the airline to Hughes for $22 a share.

CAA Head Leaves After Short Term

Charles R. Albian, hired as director of the tri-county Community Action Agency, turned in his resignation during a meeting of the three-county board Tuesday night.

The meeting was held at the Sunnyside Courts on Addison Avenue East.

Mr. Albian, as was reported, is ill and is in a long surgery at Travis Air Force Base at Sacramento, Calif.

His resignation was accepted by the directors attending the meeting, but officials said the position will remain open until Mr. Albian recovers.

He will then be given a chance to re-apply for the post, it was reported.

Mr. Albian, a retired Army officer, replaced Al Morgan. The latter quit last month.

William Chancery, a Twin Falls County commissioner, said all members of the tri-county board—which is made up of Jerome, Cassia and Blaine counties—had been notified of Tuesday's meeting. However, only six attended and they represented Jerome and Twin Falls counties.

Mr. Chancery said the board will await the outcome of Mr. Albian's resignation and the board will be in the position of open probably for at least six weeks.

The Community Action Agency administers Office of Economic Opportunity poverty programs in the three-county area of Magic Valley.

LBJ Asks New Peak In National Budget

Of $195.3 Billion

Nixon, and to the Democratic-controlled Congress to find "any place to look" for economy," he said. "Continuation of the present tax package, Johnson called taxes to finance a 12 per cent increase in monthly benefits, record $195.3 billion budget, was asked that every dollar was needed to meet "minimum requirements" in the quest for peace, justice and prosperity.

Senate Confirmation Problems Rise

WASHINGTON—Senate confirmation problems are mounting for two of the top-level appointments of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Pending committee consideration, the final outcome is in doubt. Whatever the final verdict; however, one harvest of the controversies is sure to be a crop of headlines which the new President would like to avoid.

As reported here previously, Walter J. Hickel, chosen by Nixon to be secretary of the interior, is under heavy critical fire. His public comments—especially his skepticism about "conservation" for the conservation's sake—have alarmed some senators.

The Alaska governor's situation is not improving. His problems may well be getting more complex.

In more serious jeopardy however is Nixon's President's selection of David Packard, West Coast industrialist and civic leader, to be undersecretary of defense, while Hickel's troubles stem from what he says Packard's arise because of what he is.

Packard is the much admired, efficient executive who is willing to give up an annual income of nearly $1 million to take the Pentagon's number two job at $30,000 a year. He is a founder, a major stockholder, and the chief executive officer of Hewlett-Packard Company, a firm which he started in a garage and which now sells nearly $300 million worth of electronic measuring equipment each year, about a third of it to the government and its contractors.

Admitting that the proposal is only prudent, from Packard's point of view, some Senate experts question whether the plan actually takes Packard out of company operations. They wonder whether he will be compelled to leave Hewlett-Packard through these trustees when he would select from the company's present board.

Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., who will be Packard's boss at the Pentagon, believes there is precedent for the plan in a Senate arrangement approved in 1966, former Texas Gov. Price Daniel, now director of the Office of Emergency Planning. Senate experts note, however, that Daniel had only a small interest in an oil property which might have been enhanced by Packard's oil imports for the Hanford made recommendations.

Packard would be bossing the Pentagon which would be doing business, directly and indirectly, with his company. Moreover, Laird is well aware that Daniel, a former senator, got the benefit of a favorable deal from his former colleagues. Packard may not be so lucky.

As if it didn't have enough problems, it appears that Hickel's appointment may raise some conflict-of-interest questions. The Senate Interior Committee has been advised that he has interests in gas distribution and—standard, at some personal sacrifice.

Some top-ranking senators who admire Packard's record and his willingness to serve are privately asking whether he can ever meet the committee standard without doing unacceptable damage to his own financial interests.

President-elect Nixon was Vice-President-elect when the late Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., pressed the first conflict-of-interest case against Wilson. Nixon is well aware of Packard's problem. In announcing Packard's appointment, press chief Herb Klein outlined Packard's proposed recommendations.

Packard would be bossing the Pentagon which would be doing business, directly and indirectly, with his company. Moreover, Laird is well aware that Daniel, a former senator, got the benefit of a favorable deal from his former colleagues. Packard may not be so lucky.

As if it didn't have enough problems, it appears that Hickel's appointment may raise some conflict-of-interest questions. The Senate Interior Committee has been advised that he has interests in gas distribution and—standard, at some personal sacrifice.

Such a conflict of interest might give Senate champions of conservation more reason to be much more likely to result in Hickel's rejection by the Senate.

However, Hickel, in a private meeting with Interior Committee Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., last week, said he would sell any stock or interest he has in the "committee" he believes it would be improper for him to retain.

Committee hearings on Hickel's nomination have been scheduled by Jackson to begin next Wednesday, January 15.

The Free Press

It was Will Rogers who said, "All I know is what I read in the papers." The sharp-witted humorist's words can be interpreted a couple of ways, but they express something that is still true: Except for those events in which we direct participants, about all we know of what's happening in the world is what we read or hear or see by virtue of the varied media that come under the head of journalism.

Rogers would agree that a healthy cynicism should be part of every reader's or listener's or viewer's equipment, especially in this day when we are bombarded from all sides not only by genuine news but by that which poses as news but which is really manufactured to please special interests or sell products.

He would also agree, however, that things are in bad shape when particularized skepticism begins to be replaced by generalized disbelief on the part of the news-hungry public.

We seem to be in such a period today. The International Press Institute reports that distrust of news media is growing in the United States and constitutes more of a challenge than the technical and economic problems that beset the industry.

The institute, an organization of newspaper editors from 57 countries, notes as a "disquieting development" the feeling that news media incite the violence they report, despite lack of proof of any direct connection between riots or other disorders and the reporting of them.

The feeling is not limited to newspapers by any means. Reuben Frank, head of NBC News, observed recently that "a new love-hate relationship has suddenly burst forth between television and its basic audience." People are watching more and liking it less—the riots during the Democratic convention in Chicago, for example—and are transferring their revulsion at events to the medium that reports them.

CBS President Frank Stanton sees the fundamental freedom of the press in "grave danger" from increasing instances of government intervention, implied or actual. He cites the adverse reactions of public officials to coverage of the 1967 ghetto riots, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman's threats of tighter regulation after a CBS broadcast on "Hunger in America," and numerous ultimatums and investigations generated by news coverage of the Chicago convention.

The nation has special commissions coming out of its ears, it might be a good thing to appoint one more, composed of distinguished Americans outside the field of journalism, to take a searching look at the news media, if only to discover that it still performs a useful function.

Before giving up on the Fourth Estate, we might ask ourselves, how many city-hall scandals are unearthed by politicians, or how many government boondoggles are revealed by bureaucrats, and how many by sometimes obnoxious but always dedicated reporters and their editors?

A free and unfettered press—which is the only kind worth having—will inevitably offend some people all of the time and all of the people some of the time. When it ceases to do this, then will it indeed deserve the distrust and contempt of the public.

Arms Dilemma

Four small western countries have proposed using the United Nations as a sort of clearing house for publicizing the sale of weapons outside the country of manufacture. The intent is to provide some notice that revolutionary groups may be mounting trouble.

Certainly the motive for the recommendation by Denmark, Iceland, Malta and Norway is commendable, but it fails short of the realities present in this situation. In the first place, the communist bloc—predictably—has refused to go along with the idea.

Which in itself dooms the effectiveness of the proposal, since most of the weaponry used in revolutionary activities today comes from the communist countries.

But some African countries and India also have objected to the plan, on the grounds that countries which have no munitions manufacturers of their own would be forced to publicize their additions, but countries which produce their own arms would be exempt.

Probably the compelling point, however, is the fact no country exporting arms for revolutionary purposes is going to publicize the traffic, though it involves resort to all manner of subterfuge and black market operations.

All About The Cricket

CHINNING

There's always something new under the sun and now, Mr. Spectator reads, it is connected with exercise which, of late, has once more become some sort of craze.

For instance, in org, sedentary types who have suspected this exercise business is not all it's cracked up to be may take delight in comment by Dr. Edwin F. Patton, Dr. Patton, while not exactly saying that jogging is for the birds, has his own version of what every hunk of flab should do to firm up.

Chinling, says Dr. Patton, not only ventilates the lungs, flushes out the coronary arteries, improves the posture and firms up sagging muscles, but it is considerably more private than jogging. He feels many persons who would like to do something do not particularly like the spectacle a jogger makes of himself puffing around the neighborhood in pre-dawn hours.

Chinling may even provide an excuse for dieting, because the low-weight one carries the easier it is to fit oneself a few inches off the floor.

Many are waiting for the day a physician will say it really isn't all that necessary anyway. Or perhaps the whole thing can be accomplished by taking a few deep breaths before getting out of bed in the morning.

Auction Set

JEROME — Plans are being made by the Jerome Recreation Committee to hold a silent auction Feb. 8 at the Civic Auditorium of the College of Southern Idaho.

Stud horses from throughout Idaho will be here for the sale. A meeting will be held Thursday to complete the plans.

Ozan Marsh, a noted American pianist, will appear at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the Fine Arts Center. The event will be sponsored by the Community Center.

Marsh demonstrated his prodigious musical talents at an early age with appearances both in recital and with orchestras on the West Coast.

Early in his musical career, Mr. Marsh's talent was discovered by the Dutch pianist, Ezio Petri. He lived with the Petri family in the Tatra Mountains of Southern Poland and studied with the great master. He followed Petri and worked with him in concert tours through Europe.

After this study, Emil Sauer, one of the last living pupils of Franz Liszt, bear Mr. Marsh and offered him full scholarship to study with him. It was during this time that he developed his special affinity for the music of Liszt and Chopin. While still in Europe, Mr. Marsh also worked with the French pianist, Robert Casadesus who recently remarked, "This is one of the greatest talents I have ever taught."

When Mr. Marsh appeared in New York City in one of the few recitals of the decade devoted solely to the music of Franz Liszt, the critic of the New York Herald Tribune wrote, "He has given a performance that is a triumph." Mr. Marsh continues to travel coast to coast not only in concert, but also as soloist with our nation's important symphony orchestras. So far he has played more than a dozen times with the New York Philharmonic.

Mr. Marsh's recordings for RCA Victor with the Boston Pops Orchestra are widely hailed as outstanding. In his year after tour as guest soloist with Arthur Fiedler, he has appeared more than 100 times with the Boston Symphony and the Boston Pops.

On one of these recent series of concerts he set of a record appearing times in 62 nights in some of our major cities.

He has appeared as soloist with most of America's leading orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic whose guest artist he has been more than a dozen times.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, who met

Poland as scholarship students of Mr. Petri, are the parents of a son, Michael, and a daughter, Mrs. Marsh is also an ardent fisherman, having fished in most of the waters of Europe and the United States.

Citizen Praised For Helping Nab Fleeing Bandit

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — John Kunz, 26, of Levittown, Pa., was commended by Philadelphia police Tuesday for his efforts to capture four men during a supermarket holdup in West Philadelphia last Tuesday.

Kunz, a bottling company driver-salesman, spotted the holdup when he went to the store to make a delivery. He telephoned police, and for the next hour drove at the store, keeping the four bandits left. One of the four suspects was shot and wounded when he pointed a rifle at a policeman.

Solons On Slow Pace In Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — With 180 bills already crowding the legislative calendar, Utah's 33rd Legislature began to pace itself, today in a more traditional leisurely groove.

The 87-lawmakers opened the session at bullet-neck speed and for a time Tuesday appeared to believe the House would pass its first bill.

Three House bills and one joint resolution came before the body for consideration, but a last minute effort by some House members delayed debate on the measure.

Two of the bills that reached third reading in the House would strengthen the state's bad check laws. They were both circled on the calendar and were scheduled for consideration this morning.

The other bill, also scheduled for consideration this morning, would give the State Tax Commission broader authority to collect motor fuel taxes and applicable penalties for non-compliance.

Tuesday's session was highlighted by Gov. Colin L. Rutherford's address before a joint session of the legislature.

Lawmakers were to take most of the afternoon off today to tour Antelope-Island and attend ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the Great Salt Lake State Park.

Another 12 bills and two joint resolutions were introduced Tuesday to go with the 168 bills and five joint resolutions that were pre-filed before the opening day of the legislature.

There were little changes in the Senate on the second day of the session. The senators spent most of the afternoon listening to a discussion on the governance of higher education.

The Senate heard arguments for a state government bill for an statewide adoption of higher standards and arguments for a strengthened Coordinating Council of Higher Education.

Leading the discussion for the single board advocates were Daniel S. Berman, chairman of a special study committee; Edward W. Clyde, University of Utah regent; and Mitchell Mellich, a member of the Citizens Advisory Council.

Both the Citizens' Advisory Council and the special study committee recommended passage of legislation setting up a single board.

Arguing for a strengthened coordinating council were George C. Hatch, a member of the council; Dr. Milton Abrams, of Utah State University; and Mrs. Diane Watkins, a member of the council.

Rampton: In his address, said either a single board, or a strengthened council would be superior to the present decentralized organization of state colleges and universities.

Abrams: "Neither move will automatically save money for the state, but it might be either preferable to the current set-up."

Supreme Court Justice A. H. Elliott presided at swearing-in ceremonies. He presided over the session during Tuesday's session.

Action on a number of bills is expected in both houses during the week. The legislature will settle down for the real work of the session after the governor delivers his budget message Jan. 23.

Tribunal Rules NLRB May Order Pay-In Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the National Labor Relations Board is empowered to remedy an employer's unlawful refusal to sign a union contract by ordering him to pay back pay.

The 5-4 decision reversed a lower court ruling in a case involving the Strong Roofing and Insulating Co., Alhambra, Calif.

Strong was a member of the Southern California Roofing Contractors Association but sought to withdraw from the association and refused to sign a contract after the group made an agreement with Local 3 of the Roofers Union.

The issue was whether the NLRB's power extended to ordering payment of fringe benefits outlined in the contract in addition to making a finding of illegality on the part of Strong.

The missing pet is the owner of a large grey and white cat that marched into the station Wednesday morning as if he had some law enforcement business.

"He is wearing a harness and is extremely friendly, and is the owner's pet," said Edith Kountz, identification officer.

"The only thing we can conclude is that he came in to report his owner lost and we would like to help him," she added.

Ex-Prisoner Of Viet Cong Reported Ailing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Army Spec. James W. Brigham, one of three American GIs released by the Viet Cong on New Year's Day, is unconscious and in serious condition after undergoing brain surgery at Walter Reed Army Hospital, the Army said today.

Doctors at the hospital said either a single board, or a strengthened council would be superior to the present decentralized organization of state colleges and universities.

Abrams: "Neither move will automatically save money for the state, but it might be either preferable to the current set-up."

Principals Are Rehired At Jerome

JEROME — Approximately 50 interested persons attended lengthy school board meeting Monday evening during which all principals were rehired.

Trustees considered the mandatory activity fee now being used. Principals Kenneth Noble of the Junior High and Ace Ballard of the Senior High explained what the money collected is being used for and recommended continuation concerning it.

Both recommended the continuation of the fear and if this is not possible, that many of the non-paying activities be eliminated. The board voted to continue the policy for the remainder of the year and review it before starting another year.

Andrew Yeebe and Veri Yensen reported on the guidance and testing program now being used. Yensen explained the Iowa test of basic skills and showed how Jerome third, fifth and seventh grade students rated.

Mrs. Kathleen Orr, representing the parents, reported on the guidance and testing program now being used. Yensen explained the Iowa test of basic skills and showed how Jerome third, fifth and seventh grade students rated.

A special meeting was set by the board for Feb. 24 to review the total athletic program.

Floyd Cuff appeared before the board and stated that the paycheck of his daughter, who is employed by the Neighborhood Youth program, had been withheld by the principal because her activity fees had not been paid.

Levi Gifford, board chairman, requested that the complaint be submitted to the board in writing and promised that some action would be taken.

When Gifford asked permission of the board to take approximately 20 senior students on an overnight field trip to the Craters of the Moon on May 16 and 17, permission was granted providing both the male and female chaperones accompany the group.

In an executive session, the board requested Frank Rettig, the school attorney, for a written statement on the right to search the student's locker and person and the right to question the students.

The board voted to lift the suspension of several students who had been suspended for misconduct. They also voted to accept the recommendation of Kenneth Noble, the principal, not to re-instate Randy Welch for the remainder of the year.

A contract was offered to George Danielson to teach business for the remainder of the year.

A petition was presented to the board in the executive session asking the board to reconsider offering a contract to supervisor William Lipscomb. The petition was signed by 53 teachers and students. No action was taken on the petition.

Valley Housewives Caught In Price Squeeze

BY FRED DODDS

well off are feeling the pinch. Federal figures show the cost of living has gone up four percent in the last nine months; 18 percent in four years.

Although Magic Valley and Twin Falls are somewhat secluded, the increase in the cost of living is felt keenly.

"It's outrageous," she said. "But when we compared the list with her purchases at home, Mrs. P. found the total was correct."

After two years of college and a short stint at a fairly responsible job, Mrs. P. married. Her husband continued his schooling then finally fell into a trade. Today he makes $125 a week. He supports his wife and two children. When they were first married, they had $31.16 worth of groceries.

"I simply hate to buy $30 worth of groceries, then put down another 90 cents just for sales tax. It doesn't seem quite fair," Mrs. P. said.

A national columnist said recently that there are 200,000 households in the state of Idaho with incomes of $12,000 or more.

"We're no better off today than we were eight years ago," Mrs. P. told this reporter. "We bought another car two years ago and live in a better house, but now we aren't saving anything. I don't know how we get by."

They pay $90 a month for a two-bedroom home. The furniture is paid for; the car costs

$75 a month to repair, operate and keep the credit union happy.

The food bill runs to $120 a month, average.

Doctor's bills come to just over $300 last year and without hospitalization on a group policy, Mr. P. would still be paying for the baby born 18 months

Mr. and Mrs. P. maintain an credit account somewhere in Twin Falls. They try to pay cash on all services—but sometimes the heat or water bills have to be put off a month.

He pays $80 for rent, $120 for food; $75 for the car; $10 for the telephone; $15 for heat in the winter; $5 for water and sanitation; $10 a month for insurance; $10 a month for clothes and $50 a month for miscellaneous items such as haircuts, dentist, beauty parlors and entertainment.

This comes to an even $400

a month. There should be $37.66

month. Of course there never is, no matter how hard Mrs. P. tries.

There are, for instance, the new new tires Mr. P. bought last month. Then the 7-year-old boy had to have tennis shoes for school. And Mr. P. stopped off at the book store and bought two more magazines and a book. He also ate lunch downtown five times last month in stead of going home.

The $37.66 doesn't go very far, Mrs. P. said.

And in light of the present situation, Mr. and Mrs. P. are hopeful.

"What's going to happen to

to us if everything keeps going up?"

She shakes her head and won-ers because she knows there's no answer, unless she is forced to go back to work or unless she can't find another job.

mon $31.16 worth of groceries.

That was eight years ago.

Even with the rent payments, the costs for food and the new baby and the monthly installment on the new car—a foreign car—Mrs. P. managed to put between $50 and $75 a month.

Lynn Driscoll Ends Long Banking, Civic Career

BOISE (Special) — Lynn Driscoll, a leading figure in Idaho financial and civic circles for a half-century, has announced his retirement from active involvement in the banking business.

The announcement was contained in this statement from Mr. Driscoll:

"After some fifty-four years actively engaged in the banking business, I have tendered my resignation as an officer and director of First Security Bank of the National Association, but I will continue as a director of the First Security Corporation."

"I expect to continue to maintain my present office in the bank building, which will be available to the officers of the bank for such counsel and advice as they may find desirable. I will also be available to our bank clients and my other friends for counsel and advice on their financial and banking problems."

Mr. Driscoll's announcement was accompanied by these comments from George S. Eccles, president of First Security Corporation:

"Lynn Driscoll has been a dynamic factor in banking and in the financial development of Idaho's development during the past half-century. He has contributed so very much to the progress of the First Security organization and its important area and it is a regret we will miss his services in active banking. All of us at First Security have shared a wonderful association with Lynn Driscoll over the years and we are privileged to have served with him in his active banking career."

Mr. Driscoll's business career began following his graduation from the University of Nebraska in 1914. He started as a messenger boy for the Overland National Bank in Boise. In two years time he was advanced to assistant cashier and remained in that position until 1919 when he resigned to become assistant to the president of the Livestock Exchange National Bank in Chicago, Ill. It was in this position, upon his advancement to vice-president, that he also became vice-president of the Boise Livestock Loan Company of Chicago.

In 1929 Mr. Driscoll was elected president of First Security Bank of Boise and director of

All scoring must be done under the supervision of leaders or instructors at these schools. The free throws must be taken from the regulation distance foul line and regulation basketball must be used. Competition will be five shots to qualify and two of these must be made to qualify.

After making two of five shots the boy will be given an additional 20 shots. His final score includes those made in qualifying, so the highest possible score will be 30. Each contestant will be given an additional 10 shots. Official score sheets will be provided to

Mrs. Cleaver Charges Police With Misconduct

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Kathleen Cleaver, wife of fugitive Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, formally complained to the city council Monday night of what she said was police misconduct.

In a letter to the council, she accused police of hysteria and intimidation in their halting of herself and two friends in a car on the Bay bridge on Jan. 3. Eight others with shotguns were involved.

As an overflow audience watched, the complaint was referred to the council's Subcommittee on Citizens' Complaints. Police Chief William Beal has defended his men, saying they acted wisely because the officers were under fire.

As Cleaver's Cleaver has been sought since Nov. 27 when he failed to report as a parole violator.

School Chief Is Rehired At Richfield

RICHEYFIELD — Supt. Neil Andresson was rehired at the January meeting of the Richfield school board Monday night.

He was first hired as superintendent last year after the resignation of F. R. Briggs. Mr. Andresson has been in the Richfield school system four years, including the year when he was hired for school personnel including bus mechanic, janitor and two cooks.

The board discussed possible need for some students to be riding-free hot lunches. Any person who feels he can pay for school hot lunches can appeal to the school trustees and the cost will be determined. This is in line with state school hot lunch policy.

Rubber matting will be purchased for the landing and steps leading to the school, the school board decided. Permission was granted the town team to practice in the gymnasium when not in use.

Supt. Andresson reported on attendance at the joint financial meeting of school superintendent and trustees at Twin Falls recently.

Supt. Andresson was authorized to attend a superintendent's meeting at Boise Friday. A school bus was allowed to take students to the CSI-North Idaho Junior-College game at Twin Falls Monday night.

Traffic Violations Put Big Percentage In Jail

Traffic violators counted for misdemeanors violations bond out the largest share of persons held in jail during 1968 in the Twin Falls County jail, according to Sheriff Paul Corder.

He said that 377 of the 950 prisoners booked into the jail were taken into custody because of traffic offenses. There were 280 felony prisoners booked into the jail during 1968 and 223 minor offenders. Juvenile offenders counted for 84 of the prisoners and 52 inmates were held in transit for federal authorities.

Sheriff Corder said that about 50 per cent of the traffic, and the jail inmates. Prisoners are fed twice a day, with the exception of a daily trusty who receives three meals a day.

Mrs. Corder said that the cook, however, as the trusty is kept busy with janitorial type chores.

She said that in an average week about 250 pounds of potatoes are fed to the prisoners. A large quantity of beans, another staple of the diet, also is fed to the inmates.

County officials are studying various plans to improve jail facilities for county prisoners.

Sheriff Corder feels that the present location of the jail could be remodeled and improved to create more space and better conditions for prisoners.

Freezing Rain Loss Spreads In Midwest

By United Press International

A treacherous ice storm glazed parts of four Midwest states on Wednesday, closing schools and turning highways into veritable ice rinks.

"It's too treacherous even to walk out to your car, let alone try to drive," said one resident of the Moines, Iowa, where the weather closed all public and private schools.

The weather bureau said freezing rain or drizzle-mixed with sleet made traveling hazardous in North Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Northern Illinois.

Ice-coated Interstate 80, the main highway across Iowa, was closed near Warden, where two dozen large trucks had "jack-knifed" every which way, police

The ice coating snapped power lines at Oelmuwa, Iowa. Schools and courtrooms were closed in the city.

Dr. Barnes Says Slash In Funds May Doom Class

BOISE (UPI) — Dr. John Barnes, president of Boise State College, said Tuesday that Gov. Don Samuelson in his executive budget of $500,000 in matching funds for a vocational-technical building may jeopardize vocational education at BSC.

Speaking before the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee, Barnes urged that the $50,000 either be "put back" in the budget or surplus funds be used to defray the expenditures.

Barnes also said the department of vocational education, also under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education, had agreed to provide 50 per cent matching funds.

East All-Stars Topple West; Robertson Takes Most Valuable Player

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson steps 13th time to defeat for the West with all the big moves, including a pair of the big three-point plays midway in the fourth period, as he rallied the East to a 123-112 victory over the West in the 19th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game. The West, which had Robertson's 24-point performance, also supported by Earl Monroe's 21 points and strong board work by the East, sent

Minico Tops T. F. In Wild Mat Action

RUPERT — The Minico Bruins defeated the Twin Falls Bruins 23-10 in a wheeling-dealing dual wrestling match Tuesday night that saw the Bruins turn into the visiting dualists.

Minico, fighting to protect its 10-year record of never losing in the fourth district, was led at 12-12 going into the 15-pound weight.

Then Twin Falls' Conch

Steve Fife got a technical foul, which cost the Bruins a point, then point being deducted, when he fell. Twin Falls' Huddlestone should have had a match-winning predicament in the 157-pound match. They put

Twin Falls four points down.

In the next weight, Young of

The appeal filed Tuesday was stayed only in general terms.

The appellant (Fitterer) relied upon the state constitution's right to a trial by jury, under law — under law — under the Kentucky constitution, under the Kentucky statutes, and in addition alleged that he was denied the equal protection of the laws and due process of law.

Miss Peterson,
Dong Exchange
Nuptial Vows

Kathy Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Maxine Wamersfeld and Leonard Peterson, Twin Falls, became the bride of David Dong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Dong, Mesa, Ariz. In a candlelight ceremony Dec. 20 at the First Christian Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Don Smith, Episcopal priest, and by Rev. Don Hoffman, performed the double ring ceremony before a Christmas setting of a lighted candle arch decorated with evergreen boughs and red bows. Evergreen and candlelight at each window and white satin Pew bows completed the setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length wedding gown of white satin bordered with scalloped lace and featuring a full-length train. It was of an empire waistline design with lace applique and delicate buttons on the bodice and down the side front. The three-quarter-length sleeves were edged with a gathered lace ruffle.

Her finger-tip veil, designed and made for the bride by Mrs. Don Glavin, was held by a pearl tiara. She carried a nosegay of peacock feathers.

Male of honor was Christopher Slipp, Twin Falls, with Janelle Albaugh, Portland, Ore.; Donna Hughes, Boise, and Christine Galtema, Chico, Calif., as bridesmaids.

Steve Peterson, brother of the bride, served as best man with Mark Wamersfeld and Don Peterson, brothers of the bride, Jon Olsen, cousin of the bride, as ushers.

Sunday LeBeouf, Riggins, accompanied by Mrs. Hoffman, was soloist.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement, with the women of the CWF serving. The bride's table was covered with a white nylon skirt over white satin.

It was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake with Italian

Dormant Spraying, Pruning Discussed By Garden Club

Mrs. C. W. Newbry, guest speaker, and Clara Walton presented talks on dormant spraying and pruning when the Twin Falls Garden Club held a meeting recently at the YM-YWCA building. Theme of the program was "Magic of Trees and Shrubs."

Mrs. Russell Miller, vice president of the program chairwoman, introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Newbry gave tips on use of dormant oil spray to combat various scales and said application should be made any time after first of year when weather was not wet or windy, to prevent damage. She advocated thorough spraying even on ground underneath to control hibernating insects.

Mrs. Newbry warned against spraying blue foliaged evergreens as spray destroys the blue color. Among plants affected by oil spray were blue lilies, willow, blue and green ash, prunus, spirea and peonies. Mrs. Newbry described the San Jose scale and showed sample of branches covered with oyster shell scale and cottony maple scale. She answered questions from the audience.

Miss Walton spoke on types of tree and shrub pruning. She noted that Lombardy poplars need trimming every few years to rejuvenate them. Spring blooming shrubs are pruned after blooming. Snowball can be pruned severely. Roses are pruned in spring and again in new wood. Old fashioned roses may be cut back to two or three feet each spring. As long as a plant is in good growth with room to expand little pruning is required. Other types of pruning are pinching back to induce bushiness and removing spent blooms of annuals to prolong season, Miss Walton said.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, president, conducted the business meeting. The collect was read by Mrs. C. B. Requa and reports were given by Mrs. D. E. Patterson, secretary, and Mrs. C. W. Daigh, treasurer. Carl Porter was reinstated as a club member.

It was announced that the Northwest Regional Chapter of the International Shade Tree Conference would be held Feb. 1 through 11 at the downtown Hotel, Boise. The meeting is open to the public.

Announcement was made that

Chopping Good Chops Are
For Everybody's Budget

Chops are perennial favorites, up with a sauce, a glaze or Pork, lamb or veal chops can be cooked "as is" or dressed

Luckily, there's a chop to fit everybody's budget and my time schedule. Of the three categories, loin chops are the most expensive. They're quick-to-fix always tender and the epitome of the chop dinners. Fine restaurants serve them with a stuffing.

Select loin chops for a special occasion as they are costly and grand. Betty Brownell, home economist for National Associa-

PRESERVE YOUR FLIP

To keep your hair "flipped" overnight, gather it — tie it up — keep it at the top of the head, and fasten with a large barrette. In the morning, just comb out, and your flip will look as fresh as it did the night before.
